Were in the cracks. And whats more, the lack of control-system security expertise ex-tends into the government arena, which is focused on repackaging IT solutions that dont address the actual control-system cyberevents that have occurred to date. The issue at hand is the protection of the interdependent critical infrastructures of electric power, water, oil, gas, et cetera. In fact, before I came here, the Federal Aviation Administration asked me to stop by and talk to them. Control systems form the backbone of these infrastructures, and the threat of a cyberattack is the central issue. I believe the threat is increasing, not only because of nation-state threat, which is prob-ably what youre used to, but because the economic downturn has created many disgruntled, but knowledgeable, antagonists. Exam-ples of this are the wireless hack in Australia in 2000, where a sewage discharge valve was opened. A...
