Brand New Book  Print on Demand .What does it mean for humans to accept that we are not the centre of life, but continue to worship God in a tradition which has assumed that we are? How do we worship the God of this evolving life? A God who is ancient. Personal but not human. As much female as male. The God who is beyond us, became one with us (and, many Christians claim, one of us), and who remains within and amongst us? This is the kind of understanding of God which comes to us through a serious engagement with the new stories about the origins and nature of creation. These new stories are based on the observations of cosmologists, evolutionists and ecologists, for example. What do these new creation stories mean for our understanding of God, ourselves and our place in the world? How do they nurture and shape us through worship? These questions confront people of all religious traditions. This book might be of some use to you whatever your tradition, especially if you are a Jew or Muslim. It is, however, written within the Christian tradition: by me, a minister in the Uniting Church in Australia, with an honours degree in zoology, a postgraduate degree in environmental studies, and a PhD on the implications of the science stories about creation for the Christian story. After finishing the PhD, I was privileged to become the ecominister at Scots Church in Adelaide, which created a range of opportunities to explore how a rather esoteric PhD could be of use, and even exciting, for a general audience. Probably the longest lasting legacy of that ministry will be the ecofaith worshipping community, which meets...
